

Junior Road Safety Officers (JRSO) – A Fantastic Start!

Dear Parents and Carers,

We are delighted to share an update on our new team of Junior Road Safety Officers (JRSOs) and celebrate the fantastic start they have made in their important role within our school!

Our new JRSO team have settled into their responsibilities brilliantly and have already shown great enthusiasm, commitment and teamwork. They have been attending their weekly lunchtime meetings regularly, where they come together to discuss road safety, share ideas and plan ways to help raise awareness across our school community. It has been wonderful to see them taking their roles seriously and showing such a positive attitude towards helping to keep themselves and others safe on the roads.

One of the team's first major achievements was delivering a whole-school assembly on the very important topic of 'How to Cross a Road Safely'. The children worked hard to prepare and present their assembly, sharing key road safety messages with their fellow pupils in a clear, engaging and informative way. They did an absolutely fantastic job! We were incredibly proud of the confidence they showed when speaking in front of the whole school, as well as the effort they had put into preparing and delivering their presentation.

The assembly provided a valuable opportunity to remind everyone about the importance of stopping before crossing, looking carefully in both directions, listening for traffic and choosing a safe place to cross. These are essential skills that help children make safer choices when travelling to and from school, as well as when out and about with their families. By sharing these messages with their peers, our JRSOs are already making a positive contribution to promoting safer habits throughout our school.

Being a Junior Road Safety Officer is about much more than attending meetings and delivering assemblies. It is also about being a positive role model, encouraging others to think carefully about road safety and helping to create a school community where everyone understands the importance of staying safe. Our new team have made a brilliant start in embracing these responsibilities, and we hope they feel very proud of what they have achieved so far.

We would like to congratulate all of our JRSOs on their hard work, enthusiasm and dedication. They have shown that, with teamwork, preparation and confidence, they can make a real difference. We are excited to see their ideas develop as they continue in their roles throughout the year.

We are already looking forward to their next whole-school assembly, where they will have another opportunity to share important road safety information and help keep these messages fresh in everyone's minds. We cannot wait to see what they have planned next!

Thank you for your continued support in helping us promote road safety. Please continue to talk to your children about safe choices near roads and encourage them to put what they learn into practice every day. Working together, we can help ensure that all our children develop the knowledge and confidence they need to stay safe.

Well done to our fantastic new Junior Road Safety Officers – keep up the brilliant work!
